

His Heroism Inspires Nation

Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr.

Dead now, but Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., 26, graduate of the U. S. Military academy in 1937, will go down in U. S. history as the first hero of the war with Japan. Kelly distinguished himself by scoring three direct hits on the Japanese capital battleship Haruna, leaving her in flames and in distress. The Madison, Fla., youth was cited by Lieut. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, head of U. S. forces in Philippines.

TWO ITALIAN
VESSELS SUNK

British and Dutch Destroyers Raise Score To Total of Three

LONDON, Dec. 13.—A pack of British and Dutch destroyers, pouncing with sudden and effective fire on two Italian cruisers in the Mediterranean, sank one and left the other burning from stem to stern today, the admiralty announced.

Thus, with the Italian cruiser believed to have been sunk by a British submarine in the Mediterranean yesterday, an entire flotilla of three Italian cruisers apparently had been destroyed.

None of the four destroyers—three British and one Dutch—which attacked the heavier enemy warships suffered either casualties or damage, the admiralty said.

In addition, they sank one motor torpedo boat and heavily damaged another, the communique continued.

The four warships made up the whole Italian formation encountered in the darkness before dawn this morning.

Usually matter-of-fact, the admiralty acclaimed the British destroyers Sikh, Legion and Maori and The Netherlands destroyer Isaac Sweers for a "brilliant" action and said they hit both cruisers with their opening bursts of gun and torpedo fire.

32 New Citizens
Granted Papers

LISBON, Dec. 13.—A group of 30 foreign-born residents of Columbiana county, and two women who had lost citizenship through marriage with an alien, were granted citizenship papers in the two-day session of naturalization court completed here Friday afternoon.

Petitions of 58 other aliens were deferred for various reasons, chief of which was the nationality ban of persons whose native countries are now at war with the United States, including Germany, Italy, Rumania, Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.

The class was admitted into citizenship with appropriate remarks by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, following the repeating in unison of the oath of allegiance to the United States. Judge Sharp welcomed the new citizens and admonished that they had renounced allegiance to the land of their birth and should now be loyal citizens in this land of their adoption, where they have equal rights and privileges.

Those who obtained citizenship through repatriation were: Mrs. Rhodie E. Proctor and Mrs. Mabel E. Seewers of East Liverpool, while alien born residents admitted to citizenship are:

East Liverpool—Henry Eric Bowyer, Mary Bowyer, Sidney Arrow-smith, Elizabeth Meigh, Jane Morray, Isabella Woolrich and Lillian Louisa Woolrich, English; Angelika Cazana, Greek; Mary Phillips and William Dallas, Turkish; Trevor Williams, Canadian; Jennie Rudolph.

CLINIC REVEALS
SEVEN CASES OF T. B.

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Seven positive cases of tuberculosis were discovered in a clinic held in the offices of the Columbiana County Public Health league Thursday, sponsored by the league through the sale of Christmas health seals, sold annually at this time of year.

The clinic was conducted by Dr. E. E. Kirkwood, head of the Mahoning county sanatorium, who examined 28 persons from the northern part of the county, including Salem, East Palestine, Lisbon, and one case from Wellsburg.

Five arrested cases of tuberculosis were also rechecked at the clinic, while other examinations revealed one case of bronchiectasis, one case of asthma, one abscessed lung, and one case of enlargement of the heart, according to a report by Arch Dalton, executive secretary of the league, who, with the county nurses, Mrs. William Bye and Miss Dorothy Felton, assisted in the clinic.

PRISONERS' BOARD

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Boarding of Columbiana county prisoners in the Mahoning county jail for November shows a decided increase over the preceding month in state-ments received today by the commission.

The November bill for the boarding of prisoners at 60 cents per day per capita, amounted to $694.20 compared with $394.20 for October.

The increase is partly due to grand jury prisoners, but mostly due to an increase in the number of prisoners serving sentences for intoxication, according to Sheriff George Hayes.

Moscow Proclaims Defeat Of 750,000-Strong German Army

GERMANS MAY HIT IN NEW DIRECTION

British Reinforce Middle East; War Is Declared By Bulgaria

(By Associated Press)

A disastrous end to Adolf Hitler's invasion of Russia was freely predicted by London military quarters today as Moscow proclaimed the utter defeat of a 750,000-strong German army and signs multiplied that Hitler might be planning a new campaign through Bulgaria into Turkey and the Middle East.

The prospect that the Nazi fuhrer, heartily sick of bloody losses and bitter hardships suffered on the frozen steppes of Russia, may have decided to lash out in another direction found these supporting omens:

1. Britain announced that she was sending immediate aerial reinforcements to the Middle East—evidently to meet a new threat, since British armies already had the Germans and Italians on the run in North Africa.

2. Bulgaria Declares War. Germany-dominated Bulgaria, which had remained neutral and hence legally not entitled to serve as a base for German operations, declared war on Britain and the United States.

3. Germany has officially announced that her armies in Russia were withdrawing to "new defense positions" for the winter—possibly a subterfuge to mask the shifting of these forces to the Middle East.

4. Russian reports of new German "peace feelers" to Moscow, which the Soviets have bluntly rejected, indicated that Hitler wanted to free his hands for another military venture.

5. Heavy German troop concentrations have been reported from time to time in southern Bulgaria, including her Black Sea ports, in position for an attack on Turkey if that country refused to permit transit of Nazi legions across the Turkish land bridge between Europe and the Middle East.

PLAY IS PLANNED
BY BAPTIST CAST

"A Child Shall Lead Them" is the title of a three-act play by Lucile Crites to be given at the First Baptist church Sunday evening. This play, different from the usual one at this season of the year, presents a beautiful and inspiring Christmas message, says Rev. S. T. Magann, pastor.

Mrs. James A. McIntire is the director. The cast includes David Bevan as John Sears; Mrs. Frank Bruders as Mrs. Sarah Sears; Herbert Bush as John Sears Jr.; Mrs. Herbert Bush as Mrs. Mary Sears; George Reash as John Sears III; Janet Critchfield as Sally Sears; Mrs. Betty Leach as Mrs. Elizabeth Moore; Janet Stoudt as Betty Moore; James A. McIntire as William, the butler.

The stage and special lighting effects will be arranged by George Talbot. Walter Regal will assist with the music and Miss Jean Walsh will play a group of xylophone numbers between the acts.

The program will start at 7:30 p. m. and visitors are welcome.

TWO ARE INJURED
IN ROUTE 7 CRASH

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision on the Clarkson-Negley road, one mile east of Route 7, at 6:30 p. m. Friday, the state patrol reported.

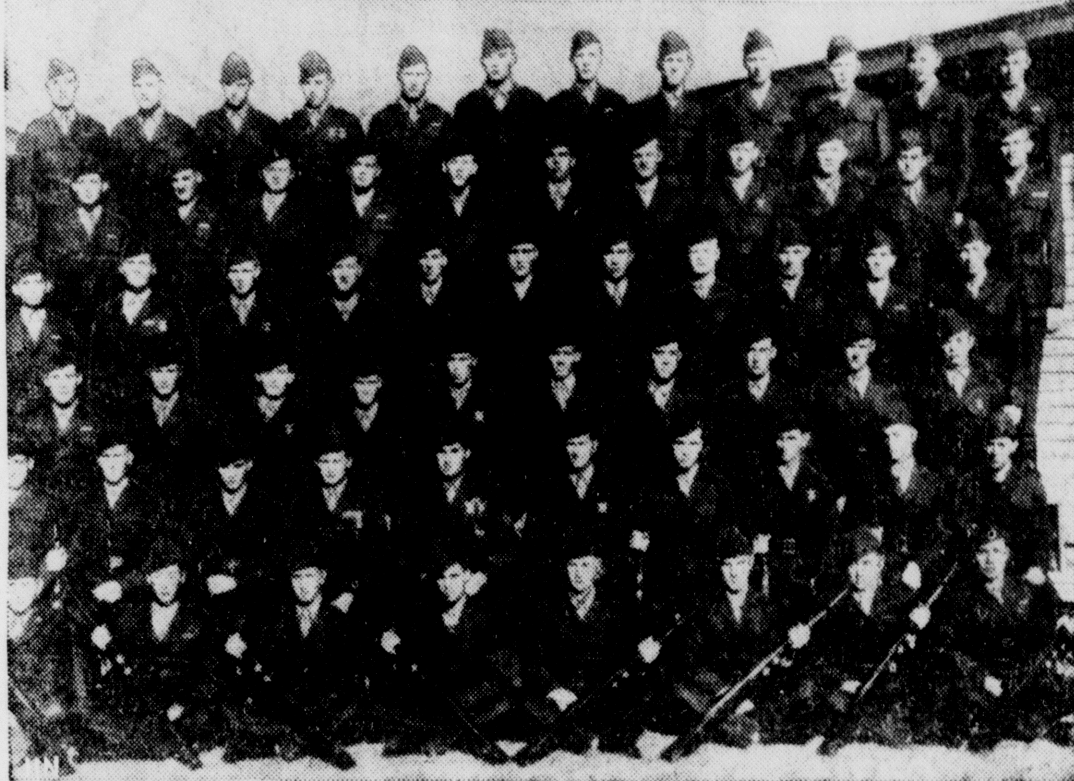

Andrew Jackson, 65, of Beaver, Pa., operator of one of the machines, received body bruises, while Mrs. Goldie Davis, 63, a passenger in his car, suffered severe lacerations to the face and knees.

Glen Look, 28, of R. D. 1, East Liverpool, driver of the other machine, received a forehead laceration. They were treated by a Columbiana physician.

Robbed By Gun-women

FREMONT, Dec. 13.—Two gun-women robbed him of $12, John E. Keller, an orchard worker, told his uncle, Sheriff H. L. Myers. He said "a heavy set woman of about 50 pointed a pistol at me." The women fled in a car driven by a man, Keller said.

Marine Heroes Defending Wake Island Against Japanese

Top—This platoon of U. S. marines is now on duty on Wake island, U. S. Pacific possession which has been attacked repeatedly by Japanese from the air and from the sea. An official navy communique in Washington said that the "marine garrison on Wake island has been subject to four separate attacks in 48 hours and has succeeded in sinking one light cruiser and one destroyer of the enemy forces by air action."

Mrs. C. F. Evans' Brother,
Journalist, Held In Berlin

In the group of American journalists held in Germany following the detention of the United States is Glenn M. Stadler, United Press correspondent, a brother of Mrs. C. F. Evans here.

According to an Exchange Telegraph company dispatch from Stockholm today, American journalists arrested in Germany have been lodged in a boarding house on the shore of a small lake in Berlin, and are not in ordinary police custody.

United States newspaper correspondents were dismissed from the daily press conference in Berlin Wednesday and instructed to return to their homes—not their offices—and have since been interned.

Stadler's wife and parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stadler, live in Peru, Ind., was head of the United Press office staff in Paris before going to Berlin this fall. A writer of human interest and feature news, he has been in Europe for the last two years. His stories of interviews with passengers on the torpedoed Zam Zam were read here when the rescue of the survivors figured in the news early last summer.

Prior to his transfer to the Berlin post, he had been writing a series of stories on life in Paris since the German occupation.

Starting his journalistic career at Toledo university and completing his studies at Indiana university in Bloomington, Ill., Stadler worked for papers in Dayton, Evansville, Ind., and Michigan City before going to the United Press staffs in Lansing, Mich., and New York City.

The 33-year-old writer freelanced for a time while on a trip around the world during the year the Olympic games were held in Germany.

The members of Goshen juvenile grange provided the lecture hour program, under the direction of Naomi Capel, featuring Christmas numbers.

Recitations were given by Marilyn and Bruce Weingart, Beatrice and Ann Ruffer, Jimmy Hallinger, Evelyn Greenmeyer, Wanda Miner, Betty Martig and Donald Capel. Janet and Albert Capel contributed songs.

A Christmas dialog was presented by nine juveniles, and a bell exercise by five little girls. Group singing of Christmas numbers was enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the program a Christmas treat was given the children.

On December 26 Goshen grange will hold a party at which the juvenile members will be guests.

Money

A total of $4,000 in Defense Bonds sales today represented Salem's first step in the Junior Chamber of Commerce campaign for "bonds for a bomber."

The campaign opened yesterday. It is scheduled to close Friday, Dec. 19, and $180,000, the cost of a medium bomber, is the goal.

Announcement of the first day's sales was made by R. M. Linder, in charge of tabulations.

It will cost money to defeat Japan. Your government calls on YOU to help NOW!

Buy defense bonds and stamps today. Buy them every day, if you can. But buy them on a regular basis.

Bonds cost as little as $18.75. Stamps come as low as 10 cents. Defense bonds and stamps can be bought at the local financial institutions and post office, and stamps can be purchased also at retail stores.

This newspaper urges all Americans to support our government with your dollars.

LEIPPER FINISHES
ANNAPOLIS COURSE

James Kenneth Leipper, 23, son of James H. Leipper of 752 E. Fourth st., will be graduated as an ensign from the United States Naval academy at Annapolis next Friday.

Leipper is a member of the 1942 class at Annapolis which normally would be graduated next spring, but which is being promoted six months early due to the war situation.

A graduate of Salem High school in 1936, Leipper made a spectacular entrance into the naval school when he was exempted from the customary academic examination due to the fact that his high school grades were above average. His only examination was a rigid physical test.

His initial studies were made at the Annapolis preparatory school.

When Leipper graduated from Salem High in 1936 he had completed the four-year course in three years.

He was active also in extra-curricular activities during his high school days, singing with the mixed chorus and vocal ensemble, taking a leading part in the Junior class play and assisting in the publishing of the school paper.

As an athlete he participated in track and field events.

He was accepted at Annapolis June 14, 1938, following his appointment by John McSweeney of Wooster, then congressman.

Tax Forms Are Mailed
To County Corporations

LISBON, Dec. 13.—County Auditor Ross Tisher today began the mailing of tax forms No. 938-939 to corporations in the county for the recording of all resident stockholders as of January 1, 1942. The deadline for the filing of the tax blank is Jan. 15, 1942, and any corporation which has not secured blanks may procure them from the auditor's office.

The blanks, when filled out, are forwarded to the State Department of Taxation at Columbus for tabulation in booklet form which is returned to the personal tax department as an aid in checking personal tax returns.

Transporters Are Smashed by Netherlands Fighting Ships Under British Command As Japs Head For Malay Battle

(By The Associated Press)

BATAVIA, Java, N. E. I., Dec. 13.—Dutch submarines were credited tonight with destruction of about 4,000 Japanese soldiers and their four transports off southern Thailand and another naval force was said to have liquidated a Japanese settlement on the east coast of Borneo.

The transports were smashed as the Japanese reinforcements were being moved to the Malayan battlefield.

The submarine victory was announced by the Batavia radio but the N. E. I. military-naval communique reported the Borneo action, saying "a unit of our naval forces has dealt with a Japanese settlement on the east coast of Borneo."

"A number of motor launches were seized during this action while other vessels were destroyed," the communique added. "The settlers have been interned."

The submarine action in the gulf of Siam was one of the sharpest blows yet delivered against the Japanese.

The British radio said that actually five Japanese transports were sunk by the Dutch submarines under British naval command.

The fully loaded transports were headed south, presumably for a new landing in British Malaya.

A flying boat of the Royal Netherlands navy drove off three enemy aircraft, damaging one, in an air fight in the South China sea.

Jap Landing Force On West
Coast Of Luzon Wiped Out

(By The Associated Press)

MANILA, Dec. 13.—(5 P. M. R. A. M. EST)—Japanese landing forces which won a foothold at Lingayen on the west coast of Luzon 100 miles from Manila were declared officially today to have been wiped out.

A communique from the headquarters of Lieut. Gen. Douglas MacArthur indicated that the Japanese had made no gains at other landing bridgeheads and that no new landings had been reported.

"The situation on the ground has not changed," the war bulletin asserted.

It added that "mopping up in the Lingayen area has been concluded."

Thus the second Japanese attempt to gain a Luzon foothold there within striking distance of the concentration of military works around Manila apparently was smashed in a stubborn defensive fight.

The Japanese first were reported landing at Lingayen last Wednesday. Within 24 hours the situation there was declared "under control," but it was disclosed yesterday that the Japanese were attempting once more to develop an attack there.

Reports Sporadic Fighting

General MacArthur had reported earlier that fighting at other places where the Japanese had landed at the coastal defenses had become sporadic. He declared there had been no confirmation of recurrent reports that the Japanese had landed parachute troops.

The Japanese struck anew during the day at United States air bases around Manila and elsewhere in the Philippines, but a communique said that although reports so far were meagre "it is believed our losses were slight."

Some Japanese planes—their number undetermined—were reported shot down. A harbor defense anti-aircraft battery was credited with bringing down one of the attackers.

In possibly their heaviest attack of the day the Japanese bombed military objectives in the Manila area—particularly Nichols field.

Damage Is Slight

(Bert Silen, NBC correspondent, said in a broadcast from the Philippine capital that damage to the field apparently was slight but that for almost a mile civilian homes were set afire.)

The raiders met strong resistance.

THE SHAPE OF WORLD WAR II

The United States, Great Britain, Russia, China and the unorganized populations of at least a dozen other countries with no future unless the Anglo-American combination aims are opposed to Germany, Japan, Italy and the few countries which can be called their allies by courtesy—Hungary, for instance, and Finland and Rumania.

The Axis bloc, whose three principal members have a combined population of not more than 230,000,000, will try to ensue the anti-Axis bloc, whose four principal members have a combined population of at least 1,700,000,000 persons—a ratio of more than five to one. Against unfavorable numerical odds, the aggressors place their dynamic strategy, their advanced state of military preparation and their possession in common of a spirit of ruthlessness that has kept their opponents and victims at a psychological disadvantage.

It is truly a situation deserving the description of "gangsterism." Adolf Hitler, the leader of the Axis bloc, perhaps borrowed this idea from America, too, just as Germany's war planners previously had borrowed the submarine, the airplane and even the idea of total mobilization. In gangsterism, a handful of ruthless individuals terrorize society with violence, taking advantage of the civilized reaction of "apprehension" to blackmail victims who think they can buy off their attackers. Americans, who learned that the only way to deal with gangsters is to call for a showdown, now are putting their knowledge into effect.

The fact of greatest immediate importance in the showdown is the apparent confidence of the gangster minority, which has taken the initiative throughout. It has taken the initiative against the United States, last major power to be victimized by its ruthlessness and treachery. Japan, Germany and Italy have declared war on this country first. Japan, at least, also has struck the first blow. The United States has not had the psychological advantage of going more than halfway to reach a showdown with international "gangsterism."

The issue, however, has been joined squarely. There are no allies of major importance to be converted to either side. The great battlefields, with the exception of Central and South America, all have been dedicated with fierce fighting. Germany has reached a stalemate with Russia in Russian territory, having conquered everything else in Europe. Germany has reached a stalemate with Britain in the air and on the sea and so far has not dared to attempt an invasion. Until next spring, when the Russian campaign can be resumed with excellent prospect of victory unless Russia can be strengthened by its allies over the winter, Germany is at a standstill. The most it can expect to do is create a new front in South America for the purpose of diverting American attention and strength to that quarter, but it is unlikely that anything decisive for the long pull can be accomplished by such tactics.

Japan, having reached a stalemate with China in Chinese territory, has opened a new front with the United States in the Pacific. Regardless of initial successes on the latter front, this means that a weary country, unable to complete the conquest of China, has made a challenge that cannot be sustained short of the conquest of the United States, also. The Japanese undoubtedly are better fighters than the Italians, but it seems likely that as members of Hitler's "gangster" bloc they may come to resemble the Italians more than the Germans.

The Italians, having failed to exhibit the necessary qualities, to become big league "gangsters," now are being locked upon as weak-minded innocents who were led astray. In their own particular section, the Mediterranean area, they have failed dismally and have had to call on Nazi help to save their skins. Their battlefield has folded up; they have been driven to cover on land and sea.

If the same thing can be done to Japan by the combined power of the United States, Great Britain, China and Russia, Germany will be left alone. And if Germany, surrounded by mortal enemies, cannot be subdued, then the world would deserve nothing better than the thing it couldn't believe the inheritors of the Hun tradition were preparing to give it.

IT PROBABLY HAD TO HAPPEN

The late Knute Rockne used to tell a story that might come in handy now. One of his football players, who later was to become an all-American, made the mistake of taking newspaper descriptions of his unusual talents too seriously. He got swell-headed about his own prowess, so it was with pleasure that his coach watched him get the wind knocked out of him when the alert opposition took advantage of a misplay. As the boy limped off the field to get patched up, Rockne said, "You should have shown those roughnecks your clippings."

Apparently, the Japanese were the only people in the world who hadn't read that Pearl Harbor and the Pacific fleet were invulnerable, just as the Germans seem to have been the only ones who weren't deeply impressed by the Maginot line and the French army—finest in the world.

This country's new army may be tough, as some of the experts claim, but that doesn't mean it won't go for chocolate cake in a big way.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, December 14

SUNDAY'S horoscope may be very favorable for seeking advancement, promotion or other tokens of preferment and honor at the hands of employers, or for cultivating the friendship of those in influence or social standing. It should be a time for pushing to high goals, especially the intellectual forces. The mind should be brilliant, witty, humorous as well as practical and constructive. Spiritual forces are also stimulated and creative. In all affairs shun extravagance and personal indulgences.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a very constructive year, with the mind keyed to high achievement and ambitious objectives. In this the friendly support of elders, employers, superiors and others whose influence is desirable, may be counted upon. Push for promotion, favors, honors and all that bring personal, professional as well as commercial progress and benefit. But in this enthusiasm don't be carried away by extravagance and indulgences.

A child born on this day should have excellent mental and creative abilities and faculties for attaining important position, with honors, favors and the friendship of those in the seats of the mighty. It should set an advanced goal.

For Monday, December 15

MONDAY'S astrological forecast is not a particularly propitious one, as the tendency may be toward self-indulgence, indifference, variability, inharmonious, or other negative qualities. Ill health or friction in the home may be at the root of such carelessness and irresponsibility in practical affairs, partnerships and property. Guard well the good name at this time and avoid overdoing in pleasure and extravagance.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves deep in a year in which success and good fortune depend upon their own integrity, attention to all obligations—business, family and social—as well as safeguarding possessions, funds and reputation as well. Application and fidelity may avert friction and unhappiness.

A child born on this day may be indulgent and careless with funds and personal obligations.

It is said that the Duchess of Windsor will publish her favorite recipes—all but one, we presume. And that is: How to cook up a romance with a King.

"MEMORANDUM"

DEFEATING DRAFT EVASION SCHEMES

Many Clever Tricks Are Used, Doctors Point Out

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

We are beginning to get crops of stories among the doctors on draft evaders. One that I have heard lately is that a doctor was examining a draftee for the army. "Read the letters on that chart,"

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The doctor, "What chart?" asked the prospective soldier. The examiner said, "Sit down in that chair, take your time and look at the chart." The draftee said, "What chart?"

The doctor left the office in the afternoon and went to the movies and when the lights went up, he was sitting next to the young man he had examined that morning. Quick as a flash the young man turned to him and asked, "Does this bus stop at 39th and Main?"

We had lots of experience in World War I with fellows who weren't mad and didn't want to fight if they could get out of it. It was a hard job to catch them and it was very interesting to see some of the clever tricks used.

Detecting Malingerers. The best detector of malingering that I ever knew was an oculist. When he sent for a man who claimed to have bad eyes, he would be seated at a desk and pretend to be busy writing. He would say, "Hang your hat on that nail." The soldier would do so, and he would say, "Examination concluded." This was startling to the soldier who wanted to get out of the army.

but was based on the fact that the doctor had carefully measured the size of the nail and if the man had good enough eyes to see so small an object at that distance, there was nothing wrong with his eyes.

Another dodge was for the examiner to drop a small instrument on the floor and the soldier, in an effort to please, would quickly pick it up. Now the object was so small that at the distance from the floor to the eyes of a man five feet, eight inches in height, it would not be possible to see it with poor eyesight.

Curing Backaches. In my hospital we had a whole group of men who claimed to have backache. They were all rounded up and taken to the parade ground. They were the saddest looking bunch I have ever seen. They all seemed to be in intense pain, hunched over, struggling along, with arms hanging down listlessly.

We made a great show of examining and measuring them with instruments. Just as we were beginning to finish the examinations, a prearranged artillery charge was shot off on a nearby range. They straightened up and began to run in all directions, all except one poor fellow who really had the backache.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

H. E.:—Kindly suggest something for excessive under-arm perspiration and its odor.

Answer: Alum, boric acid and salicylates are commonly used in deodorant-perspiration preparations. A good lotion of this kind has the following formula: Aluminum chloride, 1 dram; salicylic acid, 1/2 dram; glycerine, 2 1/2 drams; cologne water to 3 ounces.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. On Your Threshold

There is a guest at every door, knocking for entrance to every home. The Christmas spirit would enter to bring brightness and meaning to the coming holidays. But what is this spirit? Is it in any way related to a last minute rush and the anxiety and overwork and strained nerves from much ado we find on streets and in stores and banks and homes, this mad scramble about many things to get "ready" for Christmas?

This latter phenomenon is but the confusion resulting from a wrong emphasis in which the real Christmas spirit is throttled out of our lives by putting material and commercial things in the front rank at Christmas time.

The Christmas spirit is something quite foreign to what we find in the marts and trading places of the world. Here the important factor is to buy and sell, and at profit and much Christmas shopping have the same motive.

The Christmas spirit springs from the recognition that God has given the world a Savior and has given us love to men. That there is peace with God and salvation through Christ Jesus. This recognition in sinners' hearts will bring that spirit of peace and joy to men that there may be good on earth.

"Mars Beats The Angels" Is Rev. Carl Asmus' Topic

"Mars Beats The Angels" will be the topic of Rev. Carl Asmus at the First Methodist church tomorrow. Morning worship services will begin at 10:55.

Order of worship follows:

Organ prelude, "To Martin Luther's Christmas Carol," (H. B. Gaul); the call to worship; hymn, "Angels From the Realms of Glory" (Regent Square); prayer to be said by all; silent prayer; words of assurance; the Lord's Prayer; anthem, "Sing, O Heavens" (Solly); responsive reading; Gloria Patri; affirmation of faith; scripture lesson.

Prayer and choral response; offertory, "There's a Song in the Air" (Harrington); Junior choir; announcements; hymn, "Hail to the Lord's Anointed" (Ellacombe); sermon, "Mars Beats The Angels."

"God, the Preserver of Man", Is Topic

"God The Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson sermon which will be read at the morning worship of the Christian Science Society tomorrow at 11 a. m. The Sunday service is also broadcast over station WCLE (610 KIL) Cleveland the first and third Sundays of each month at 11 a. m. Sunday school for pupils up to the age of 20 years is held at 9:30 a. m. The midweek service is held the first Wednesday of each month at the church at 8 p. m.

The Golden Text is: "Withhold not Thou Thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let Thy lovingkindness and Thy truth continually preserve me" (Psalms 40:11).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Therefore also now, saith the Lord, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning. . . . And rend your hearts, and not your garments, and turn unto the Lord your God (Joel 2:12-13).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus never spoke of disease as dangerous or as difficult to heal. When his students brought him a case they had failed to heal, he said to them, 'O faithless generation! implying that the requisite power to heal was in mind' (pp. 147, 148).

This society maintains a reading room at 138 S. Broadway where the Bible and all authorized Christian Science literature may be read or borrowed. Open from 1:30 to 4 p. m. on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and from 7 to 9 p. m. on Saturday. A cordial invitation is extended to all, to attend the services and visit the reading room.

Universal Bible Study To Be Observed By Churches

The Salvation Army will join with other Salem churches in observing Universal Bible Sunday, tomorrow.

"The Bible has made an in-praiseworthy impression upon child life. Upon it poets have fed their genius. Its thoughts lie like threads of gold upon the rich pages of each Macaulay or Burke.

"Orators have quoted that it so largely that we may say that, in proportion as men are cultured, have they been students of the Bible.

Today its moral principles form the very substance and body of modern law and jurisprudence. For centuries it has been the book for patriots and reformers; it has been the slave's book, it has been the book for the common people struggling upward; it has been the book of hope for all prodigals; it has been a medicine book for the heart-broken, while its ideas furnish goals for society's future progress. For the individual it teaches the art of individual worth, and is a guide to conduct and character. For the state it is a hand-book of universal civilization.

FRIENDS' CHURCH SERVICES LISTED

At the 11 o'clock morning worship at the First Friends church, the pastor, Andrew B. Starbuck, will speak on "The Secret of Fellowship" using a text found in I John 1:7. Rev. Keister Speaks On "Preparing the Way"

Rev. George D. Keister will speak on "Preparing the Way" tomorrow at the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church. Divine worship services will begin at 11 a. m.

Other Sunday services follow:

The services for the third Sunday in Advent begin with the Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. with classes of instruction for all ages. The lesson topic is, "Christian Stewardship," based on the Scripture text: II Corinthians 8:1-9. Further instruction will be given the children from the ages of five years to 12 at 11 a. m. in the Sunday school room, in the organization of Children of the Church.

The morning worship service is scheduled for 11. The pastor will preach on the topic, "Preparing the Way."

The Advent season is used primarily to accomplish a better preparation for the Christmas festival. There was a very definite preparation for the work of Jesus. The forerunner and preparer of the way for Jesus was John, the Baptist. He went through town and country and called people to repentance and pointed them to Jesus, the Lamb of God, who taketh away the sin of the world. The world has been very different since the coming of Jesus. It is not as different as God would desire to have it. This world is far from being what God intended it to be. There is room for much preparation for the coming of the Kingdom of God. Repentance is very much in order. Christians must re-examine their

PANELS MAKE CHILD'S MODEL GAY
Pattern 4695

Begin now to teach your little girl how to dress well—choose simple, appropriate clothes that have fine detail! Begin with Pattern 4695 by Anne Adams, for example. The princess panels are so effective! A striped fabric will show off the cross-grain contrast of the two panels in the front. The dress is charming, too, in a plain fabric with all panels cut on the straight of the grain. The little rounded yoke looks sweet accented with a row of buttons, ruffling, or perhaps a contrast collar. The sash is optional. Make this up on details—the sleeves may be short or long, the collar omitted if you prefer.

Pattern 4695 is available in children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10. 6, short sleeve dress, takes 2 1/2 yards; 35-inch fabric; long sleeve dress, 1 1/2 yards; 54-inch fabric.

Emerald Embassy by FRANCIS GERARD

CHAPTER ONE

It was an unusually mild evening for early spring when Ambrose Pennyfeather set out for his walk. Before doing so he stood in the beamed and raftered hall of his charming little house and stared contemplatively through the open front door while Hogbin, his man, fussed about him with muffler and gloves. Mr. Pennyfeather cast a humorous eye at his servant's face and said mildly, "All right, all right, Hogbin. I'm seventy, not seven."

"Yes, sir," agreed Hogbin, tucking in the muffler and spreading it out beneath the comfortable, double chin much as though it were a baby's bib. "Quite, sir." He cast a quick glance at the exquisite little grandfather clock which stood in a corner of the charming hall and added, "You have just time to go through the village and take a turn about the wood."

"Time?" echoed Mr. Pennyfeather and went on with more resolution in his tone. "Now look here, Hogbin, I refuse to allow you to dictate to me in this manner."

"Yes, sir," replied Hogbin quite unmoved since he knew from the experience of more than twenty years that he always got his way. "May I remind you that you must be back by six-thirty in time to dress. You're dining at the Hall to night, sir. His Lordship is sending his car for you at seven-thirty."

"Oh," said Mr. Pennyfeather penitently. "I had forgotten." Then he beamed at his servant and Hogbin smiled back. "I don't know what I'd do without you," said the old gentleman. "Don't you go dying before me, Hogbin."

"Very good, sir," replied the other dutifully. "I will endeavor to obtain your wishes in the matter."

Mr. Pennyfeather looked vaguely round the hall as though in search of something. "Aristotle," observed Hogbin who had intercepted the master's look, "is, as usual, waiting by the gate. A creature of habit, Aristotle, sir."

Ambrose Pennyfeather wheezed gently as he walked with majestic slowness down the path to the gate. He discovered Aristotle, a wheatear terrier, near the gate in an attitude which clearly demonstrated both his earnest desire to pass into the greater world beyond and also his canine inability to wait any longer.

Mr. Pennyfeather stood for a few moments at his garden gate and looked out over the scene spread for his delectation. Weyland was one of those old English villages which had been passed over by the hand of time, and from where he stood Ambrose Pennyfeather could see nothing which struck any note of modernity. The village, built upon the slopes of two opposing hills, stood with its thatched roofs, its beams and plaster and warm Elizabethan brick as it had stood, practically without change, for four hundred years.

Mr. Pennyfeather unlatched the gate and swung it open, and Aristotle sailed forth barking and displaying a bristling ferocity which threatened all and sundry but which vanished into thin air as his keen, little nose was abruptly clapped to a familiar mile-post.

As he went slowly up the lane towards Weyland's Wood, Mr. Pennyfeather thought with great satisfaction of how pleasant was his lot. Though he had been a Government official most of his life and chained to a desk in Whitehall, he had been originally a countryman. Too timid to embark upon the uncharted seas of matrimony, the even tenor of his existence had been undisturbed by any cataclysmic emotions, and the so-called weaker sex whose weakness had ever reduced Ambrose Pennyfeather to a state of complete dither. That is not to say he was a misogynist. He liked women, but not too much of them.

With the exception of a niece, now married and in America, Mr. Pennyfeather was without kith or kin but he had his books and his music and a huge circle of friends. Then again he had Hogbin who had become his alter ego and with whom he knew a relationship far exceeding that of master and man, for there was a great liking between them.

In the little village world of Weyland, Ambrose Pennyfeather played his part and no village committee ever appealed to him for subscriptions or prizes unavailingly. He would dine, as this evening, for instance, with Lord Lanchester up at the Hall, where he could count on a bottle of Roman-Conti but he would just as cheerfully, and did, have his evening meal at the Lanchester Arms with his old friend the village constable, and eat cheese and pickles and drink a pint of beer.

The stranger put his right hand into his coat pocket. "Helas, monsieur, that it should be you."

It was getting dusk rapidly when Mr. Pennyfeather reached the hill, the top of which were Weyland's Wood like a mantle. And on its summit stood Weyland Hall where he was to dine that night, a perfect specimen of the later Elizabethan manner house.

Ambrose Pennyfeather smiled simply because he was happy and at that moment Aristotle growled.

Mr. Pennyfeather turned to call the dog when he saw that they were no longer alone. A dark little man with queer tight-waisted clothing and a black, pinch-in hat was contemplating him with bright, ready eyes. Seeing himself observed, the stranger stepped forward and raised his hat. "Mistaire Pennyfeather?" he asked, his hat still held about a foot from his head.

Mr. Pennyfeather was astonished, to say the least of it. "Yes?" he said.

"You will permit me to pose you more questions?"

"Pose away," smiled Mr. Pennyfeather and spoke sharply to Aristotle who was still growling.

The little Frenchman came closer and his vis-a-vis was able to see, even in the fading light, that his features were of a singularly villainous type. He had broken, dingy teeth and had not shaved in days. "Please be so good as to say to me if you are, Mistaire Ambrose Pennyfeather."

"I am."

"Parfaitement! Zen you are Mistaire Ambrose Pennyfeather who live at Ollycock Cottage?"

Mr. Pennyfeather smiled and said gently, "I am."

"Parfaitement!"

At this the stranger put his right hand into his coat pocket. Then he murmured, "Helas, monsieur, that it should be you!"

Files Damage Suit

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Raymond D. Thomas of R. D. 1, Homeworth, yesterday filed suit against Ed. E. Pieren of R. D. 1, Homeworth, seeking $20,920 damages for personal injuries suffered when a farm wagon on which he was riding overturned on the George Bandy farm, near Homeworth, Aug. 12, 1940.

Thomas claims that Pieren, driving the wagon, turned sharply as he neared the barn, causing the vehicle to upset. Thomas said he received a fractured leg, causing permanent injuries.

Hold Canton Clerk

CLEVELAND, Dec. 13.—Eric Von Haber, about 30, a clerk in the Belden hotel at Canton, O., the past three months, was held here today on a federal charge of falsely claiming to be an American citizen. Von Haber pleaded innocent before U. S. Commissioner B. D. Nicola, but was held in lieu of $1,000 bond. The warrant, issued in Pittsburgh, Pa., says he is a German.

He drew a small automatic from his pocket and thrust it hard against Mr. Pennyfeather's chest. The stranger pressed the trigger and Ambrose Pennyfeather crumpled up, sprawling upon his face... dead.

The murderer stopped to feel his victim's pulse and Aristotle's teeth closed on his wrist.

"Sacre mon d'au' chien!" he gasped, and the next moment he killed the dog with a single shot. When the crime was discovered, the authorities were up against an almost insuperable task for the dead man apparently had had no enemy in the world.

In point of fact this was actually true and not even his murderer had the slightest animosity towards him. If the truth were known, Mr. Ambrose Pennyfeather died because he loved beach trees! However, the authorities did not realize this for a long time.

BANK BROADCASTS CHRISTMAS MUSIC

The First National bank has completed arrangements for broadcasting Christmas carol music four times daily by means of an outdoor amplification system at the bank.

The broadcasts will be at 12 noon, 3 and 5 in the afternoon, and in the evening at 8.

All of the well-known Christmas carols will be heard by the passers-by.

The interior of the bank has again been attractively decorated for the Christmas season. The decorations last year attracted considerable attention.

Fire Razes Barn

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Fire, caused by a short circuit in the electric wiring, destroyed a barn at the farm of John Ketchum on the Canton hill, just west of here, at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

Lost in the blaze were 100 chickens, a calf, a quantity of lumber and some hay and straw. Another heifer and cow escaped from the building.

God Bless America AS ALWAYS WE STAND UNITED

Now that we are at war, all other things must be forgotten, so we may be able to give our undivided attention and strength to meet our great needs. Only by the united cooperation of all of us can we be sure of a speedy victory. Many of you will be able to stay at home and do your part, but a great many are going to have to leave their homes and loved ones for a while. To these we would like to urge to be ready when the time comes. There are always things around the home that must be repaired and have been neglected. Fix them now while you have time, so the ones you have to leave will be able to get by until you return. Let us help you. Just call 3428 on any painting or repairing problem. We can help you. We have quality materials—reasonable prices and service.

Here Is What a Formal Declaration of War Looks Like

Seventy-seventh Congress of the United States of America,
At the First Session

Passed and held at the City of Washington on Friday, the third day of January, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one

JOINT RESOLUTION

Declaring that a state of war exists between the Government of Germany and the Government and the people of the United States and making provision to prosecute the same.

Whereas the Government of Germany has formally declared war against the Government and the people of the United States of America; Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the state of war between the United States and the Government of Germany which has thus been thrust upon the United States is hereby formally declared; and the President is hereby authorized and directed to employ the entire naval and military forces of the United States and the resources of the Government to carry on war against the Government of Germany; and, to bring the conflict to a successful termination, all of the resources of the country are hereby pledged by the Congress of the United States.

Franklin D. Roosevelt

of the United States of America,
At the First Session

Passed and held at the City of Washington on Friday, the third day of January, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one

RESOLUTION

Declaring that a state of war exists between the Government of Italy and the Government and the people of the United States and making provision to prosecute the same.

Whereas the Government of Italy has formally declared war against the Government and the people of the United States of America; Therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the state of war between the United States and the Government of Italy which has thus been thrust upon the United States is hereby formally declared; and the President is hereby authorized and directed to employ the entire naval and military forces of the United States and the resources of the Government to carry on war against the Government of Italy; and, to bring the conflict to a successful termination, all of the resources of the country are hereby pledged by the Congress of the United States.

Charles McNary
Speaker of the House of Representatives

Howell Wallace
Vice President of the United States and President of the Senate

President Roosevelt examines the twin resolutions passed by the senate and house without a dissenting vote declaring war on Germany and Italy. The signed declarations (below) are identical in wording except for the naming of Germany in one and Italy in the other.

Friendly to U. S.?

Gov. Gen. Boisson

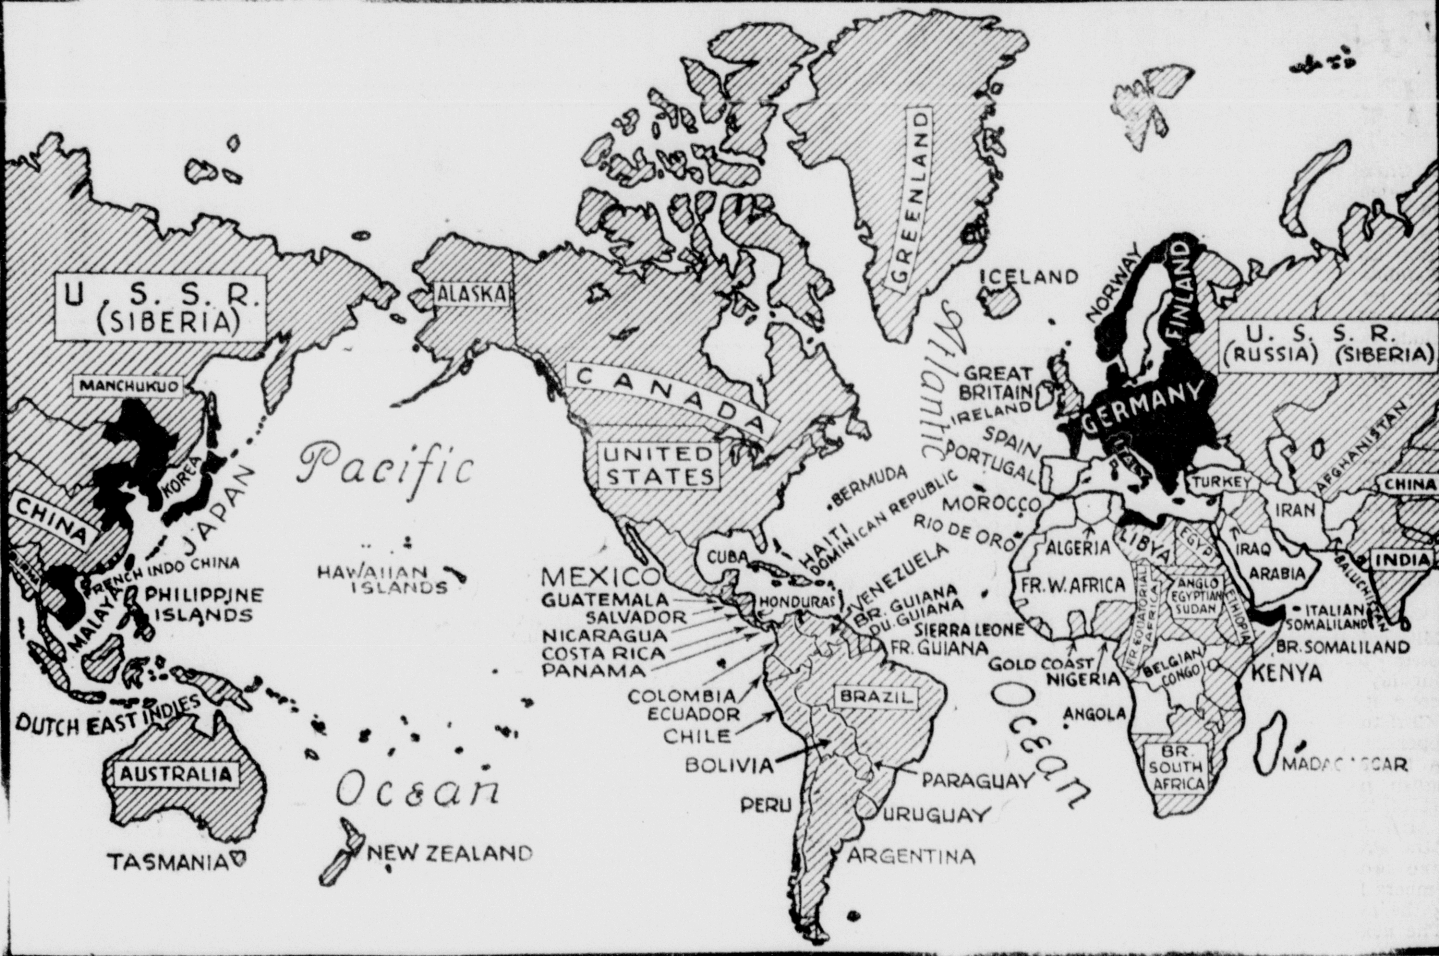

Reports received in diplomatic quarters in Washington state that French Governor General Boisson of Dakar, French West Africa, important base along the eastern Atlantic, had called on the American consul there to wish the U. S. victory in the war with Japan. Diplomatic quarters regard the visit as significant, since some fears were expressed that the Vichy government might attempt to turn the base over to Germany.

Same Appetites

Since the outbreak of hostilities between the United States and Japan, members of the Japanese embassy staff in Washington have been forbidden to leave the embassy. But even they have to eat, and so supplies are brought in. Note the sacks of rice.

The World At Large — How the Allies and Axis Nations Line Up

This comprehensive map of the world as it shows the "line-up" of the nations in World War II, Axis versus Allies. The Axis nations are in black. The Allied nations (South America is placed on the Allied side) are shaded. On the European continent, only Spain, Portugal, tiny Switzerland and Sweden are neutral. Mexico, not at war, is considered one of the Allies.

RAF Reinforcements Arrive in Singapore

Newly arrived men of the Royal Air Force arrive at a transit camp near Singapore. They are shown in a grove of rubber trees which still show signs of old tapping cuts. These same men are now probably fighting the Japanese, who have invaded the Malay Peninsula in an attempt to crush the great British naval base that lies astride the crossroads of the far Pacific.

New U. S. Destroyer

One of the two new destroyers launched at the Charlestown, Mass., navy yard, the U. S. S. Doran, above, is shown sliding down the ways. The other destroyer was the U. S. S. Earle.

SPORTS CHAMPIONS of 1941

Joe Louis

Bobby Riggs

Helen Crlenkovich

Craig Wood

Joe DiMaggio

Erwin Rudolph

Whirlaway

Sarah Palfrey Cooke

Cornelius Warmerdam

Bill Smith

Gloria Callen

Bill Gallon

Betty Hicks Newell

Here are the men, women, and horses who were crowned champions in their respective fields in the world of sports during 1941. Bobby Riggs won the men's national singles tennis crown. Whirlaway proved to be the best three-year-old of the year with Derby and Preakness victories to his credit. Helen Crlenkovich won the diving championship. Sarah Palfrey Cooke captured the women's singles tennis championship. Bill Smith broke 20 swimming records. Gloria Callen, backstroke specialist, set nineteen new swimming marks for women. Cornelius Warmerdam set a world mark in the pole vault by clearing fifteen feet, five inches. Craig Wood came back to win the national open golf championship. Bill Gallon trotted to victory in the Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of trotting. Joe Louis, world's heavyweight king, retained his crown after meeting all comers. Erwin Rudolph became the pocket billiards champion. Joe DiMaggio was selected the outstanding baseball player of the year because of his hitting in 56 consecutive games to give the Yankees a pennant and another world series. Betty Hicks Newell captured the women's golf championship. (International Illustrated News)

Dodgers Give Pirates Four Players For Shortstop Vaughan

TRADE COSCARART, WASELL, HAMLIN, PHELPS TO BUCCOS

Lavagetto and Camilli On Block; MacPhail Wants Good Southpaw

(By Associated Press)
BROOKLYN, Dec. 13.—Help pull your ball club out of the baseball doldrums—and get traded. Where else could it happen but in Brooklyn?

Leland Stanford MacPhail, boss of the Babbling Brooks, yesterday carried the idea a step further and swapped four members of the first Dodger world series team in 21 years for Shortstop Arky Vaughan of Pittsburgh.

The National League Champions gave up Luke Hamlin, owner of the home-run pitch; Pete Coscarart, light-hitting outfielder; Jimmy Waseell, outfielder-first baseman, and Babe Phelps, self-grounded catching blimp.

Still rumored on the trading mart are Cookie Lavagetto, twice in the past two years the National League's third baseman in the All-Star game, and Dolph Camilli, slugging first baseman and the senior league's most valuable player of 1941.

Vaughan, 10 years a shortstop with the Pirates, probably will be a third baseman for the Dodgers, especially if MacPhail can find a left-handed pitcher for whom he can trade Lavagetto.

Neither Coscarart nor Waseell were regulars with the pennant winning Dodgers last summer although both were useful utility players.

Phelps wasn't a member of the Dodgers after midsummer when he decided that he was ill and the club said he wasn't. His decision cost him a $4,000 world series cut.

Six Million Hunters
Base For Home Guard
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—America's 6,000,000 hunters provide the nation with a far broader base for a home defense guard than Great Britain had at the start of the war, a survey shows.

The study by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. cites 10,000,000 rifles sold in the United States in the last decade as an indication that "Americans are more proficient in handling firearms than Britons."

The company said hunting has become a lost art in Britain due to years of restrictive legislation.

BOWLING RESULTS

Meissner's remained in first place in the Federal league at the Masonic alleys last night as they took a pair of games from the Eagles while Sheen's, their closest rival, were dropping two to Brownies.

Fritz Brantisch of the Eagles put together games of 191, 210 and 212 to hit a 613 total for the evening. The Sanitary Shippers strengthened their hold on fourth place as they shut out the K. of C. Severn of the Shippers rolled a 212 in his second game.

In the other match, Beeler's topped the Sanitary Foremen twice, although Pozniko of the Foremen rolled games of 219, 168 and 222 for a 609 series.

Colonial Finance added to their first place lead in the Grate Ladies' league by soundly trouncing the Salem China and Trades Class last night at the Grate alleys. Frieda Orr rolled a splendid 210 to open her series.

Hald's fell slightly behind in second place as they managed to take a pair from the Eagles No. 2 five. Kaufman's lost a great chance to climb into second as they lost three to Coy's.

In other battles last night, the A.A.A. topped Schwartz's twice, although Frances Holwick wound up her series with a 209 game; Eagles No. 1 dropped a couple to Hi-Ho, and Trades Class came through with a pair of wins over Endres-Gross.

EX-HIGHS NOSE OUT CARROLLS IN CLOSE, FAST BATTLE, 33-28

Nedelka, Ritchie Lead Respective Teams In Scoring

The highly-touted Ex-Highs opened their 1941-42 basketball campaign for the city Class A title with a 23-28 win over the Carroll club on the Memorial building floor last night. It was a close game all the way as the Carrolls fought back all the way. Led by Bob "Buck" Ritchie, who paced the attack, the Carrolls played their rivals even for three quarters but failed to equal the Grads' last quarter pace.

The Ex-Highs were paced in the scoring department by Tom Nedelka, who tallied 13 points. They battled the Carroll club on even terms for most of three quarters, then began to pull slowly out in front. By the middle of the final period, they had an 11-point margin and they managed to protect it until the end of the game.

The Buckeyes and the Demings scored unimpressive wins in the Class B circuit last night, beating the Salem China and Trades Class respectively. The Trojans scored their first victory by means of a forfeit over the Presbyterians.

In the Buckeye-Salem China game, Stuffer and Ellis led the Buckeyes in scoring with nine and eight points respectively. D. Rickshaw paced Demings to a 22-5 win over the Trades Class by chalking up 14 points.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—(Wide World.)—If the Glants keep on making—and announcing—their trades at odd hours, they may lose the sports writers' good will that they earned by making Mel Ott manager.

The Hank Leiber trade didn't come off until 2 a. m. and the deal for Johnny Mize was announced after a lot of the New York writers had left for home.

Branch Rickey had tipped off the St. Louis scribes to stick around because something was cooking.

Today's Guest Star
Glenn H. Peterson, Bismarck (N. D.) Capital, "Major league magnates intending to buy baseball players from the St. Louis Cardinals and Branch Rickey ought to stipulate in the contract one additional clause: 'How many years, or months, is the play guaranteed for?'"

The Yankees' offer to Brooklyn for Dolph Camilli was $35,000 cash and players worth $25,000 more. Larry MacPhail provided the laugh of the week when he explained he was trying to get rid of Camilli because Dolph talked too much.

Sob Story
H. B. McElroy, assistant publicity director at Texas A. & M., says: "Three years ago I planned a Christmas trip to Mexico City. Two years ago, and again last year, I planned the same trip. About the time I get my plans completed, the Aggies get invited to a bowl game and I have to stay on the job. It's rumored that McElroy already has his order in for next fall's travel folders."

It's About Time Department
Raymond C. Knox, Columbia's 65-year-old chaplain, who retires next June, is the university's most enthusiastic oarsman. He sculls five or six miles a day, winter and summer, and last June rowed all the way up to Poughkeepsie and saw the Lions' crew lose. This week, when Columbia handed out letters to its footballers, Chaplain Knox was awarded his varsity "C."

"IRON DUKES" HALT PENGUINS; TOLEDO BEATS KENT STATE

Buckeye Squads Run Up Big Scores To Defeat Rivals

(By Associated Press)
High-scoring Ohio college basketball teams are slamming shut the gates of mercy early in the season. In 11 games involving Buckeye squads last night, the margins of victory ranged up to 32 points and only three were won by fewer than 23 points.

Leading the assault of the "toughies" was Capital university, which opened its season with a 64 to 32 triumph over Bethany, W. Va. Ohio Northern's Polar Bears drubbed Bluffton 69 to 35, and Toledo swamped Kent State 58 to 27 at Toledo.

Bib Bob (Gerber of Toledo, one of the state's leading scorers, had another good night, racking up 23 points, but Joe Price of Kent State ran him a close second with 20 of his team's 27.

Even little Rio Grande turned on the heat at home to annex its first victory in four starts. The Indians trounced Tiffin 59 to 34 as Jack Lunan of Portsmouth and Howard Vulgamore of Wakefield led the winners with 20 points each.

Findlay won 55 to 37 at Ashland despite the sharpshooting of Ashland's Vince Barr, who collected 15 points.

Wooster's Scots handed Miami a 47-25 lacing at Oxford, and Baldwin-Wallace whipped Heidelberg 44 to 27 at Berea.

In a comparatively close contest, Muskingum's lanky tossers defeated Ohio Wesleyan 41 to 33 at Delaware.

Mount Union had little trouble with Defiance, opening the season at Alliance with a 43 to 31 triumph. Buckeye quintets broke even in a pair of out-of-state engagements. Youngstown bowed before Duquesne 43 to 22, while Oberlin trounced Allegheny (Pa.) 39 to 17.

SEBRING CAGERS WALLOP GOSHEN
Sebring cagers went on a scoring spree last night as they wallowed the Goshen courtmen, 61-23, on the Sebring floor.

In the preliminary game, the Sebring subs also scored an overwhelming victory, defeating the Goshen second stringers, 42-20. Goshen will meet North Jackson in its next game Tuesday night at Damascus.

CONCERNING BUTTONS — As a matter of information to local housewives, certain facts about buttons should be considered. Pearl Buttons, made from mother of pearl shell, have proved their superiority over every other type of button. No other button compares the durability, lustre and beauty of pearls. It is important, therefore, that you examine carefully the buttons you wash garments you buy. If they are Pearl Buttons you can be certain of the service they will render, and you can be assured that their presence is a sign of quality in the garment itself. See that all wash garments you purchase have Pearl Buttons.

JOURNALIST HELD BY NAZI LEADERS

Brother of Mrs. C. F. Evans Is Detained In German Capital

His letters to his family in this country contain only general information, since, he explains, "you censor yourself because if your stories and letters contain information which has to be censored, you are asked to leave."

He said in one of his letters that he had had only one glass of milk since he had been in Berlin and his remark that he would have to make his present clothing serve for another year indicated that milk and other fresh foods and materials for clothing were difficult to obtain. He frequently bemoans the lack of news available to the correspondent, either from inside Germany or from outside Germany. He has mentioned reading several American magazines, which, presumably, had been censored before being circulated.

While in Paris he wrote that he had been able to obtain plenty of food at restaurants but that people who had to do their buying in the open markets found it hard to get and expensive.

His family has received no direct word from him since the interruption of the correspondents two days ago.

"Gas" Station Entered

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Sheriff George Hayes reported today that the E. W. Jackson station in Homeworth was entered Thursday night after a window was broken, and that two boxes of candy, a flashlight, a appeared in the clouds to the west with the battle still raging. Earlier today Japanese planes lashed at outlying Philippine strongholds.

Battle Fifth Columnists The fifth of raiding followed a night of shooting in Manila where sentries and constables, ordered to "shoot to kill" to stamp out fifth columnists, battled against elements who fired rockets over the city and violated its stringent blackout.

Lieut. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, commander of the U. S. Far Eastern army, announced at 11 a. m. (10 p. m. EST Friday) that the Japanese had bombed Clark field, 40 miles north of Manila, and Cebu about 250 miles southeast of Manila, during the morning.

The Far Eastern commander said, however, there was only sporadic and unimportant activity on land front, where the Japanese are attempting to establish a permanent base on Luzon island, the key to the Philippines.

(In Washington, the war department announced last night that the Japanese attempted yesterday to land south of Vigan and north of San Fernando and at Linayen all on the west coast, but were repulsed.

Authorities have arrested more than 500 Europeans in a roundup of Italians and German. The Axis nationals were ready—with trunks packed and containers of food at hand.

A plea for swift help from the United States was voiced by U. S. High Commissioner Francis B. Sayre in a broadcast to the United States.

"We know you back home will send us help and you won't permit divided councils or capital and labor disputes or red tape or anything else to delay your getting effective help to us before it is too late," he said.

"We are in the fight to stay. War enjoins upon us all action, action, action."

"Time is of the essence. Come on America!" Lieut. Gen. MacArthur sent a message to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek conveying his greetings "in sympathy and spirit."

An army spokesman said there had been no confirmation of reports that Japanese parachute troops had landed anywhere on the Philippines. He declared the reports might have originated when American or Japanese airmen bailed out of their planes.

Named In Liquor Count

CINCINNATI, Dec. 13.—Two former state liquor officers and a federal alcohol tax agent were indicted on charges of conspiring to violate federal liquor statutes by setting up a still at Miamisburg, O., and selling liquor to bootleggers. They are Roy Terry, of Cincinnati, Charles Bass of Wilmington and Thomas A. Fehey, the federal agent. J. Clark Allen of Cincinnati, who was suspended with Fehey last September, was named as a co-conspirator, but not as a defendant.

Build Ice Breaker

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—An $8,000,000 appropriation for constructing a large ice breaker to keep Great Lakes shipping channels open during the winter season is included in the third supplemental defense appropriation bill reported to the senate.

PHILADELPHIA — Time was when Santa Claus left his land of ice and snow to distribute Christmas gifts in warmer climes. Now the Media branch of the Emergency Aid of Pennsylvania has reversed the tradition and started a steady flow of thousands of Christmas cookies from Delaware county home kitchens to the American troops in Iceland. Housewives are even rivaling Santa's elaborate red and green "fixings" as they invade the Arctic king's own domain with their gaily bedecked gifts to the "boys out there."

Defense Is Organized

LISBON, Dec. 13.—Mayor G. C. Rauch was named temporary chairman of the Lisbon defense council at a meeting here last night. Kenneth Hiseox, village clerk, was named secretary for the group. About 60 persons attending the meeting, representing business and industrial groups.

Prisoner Is Paroled

Lawrence Estill, sentenced from Columbiana county on a burglary charge, is among 127 Mansfield reformatory inmates granted paroles today by the state. His parole will become effective Feb. 1.

MELBOURNE, Australia — British Dominions are now contributing arrearages to the Empire Air Training scheme on the basis of population as follows: Canada, 53 per cent; Australia, 36 per cent; and New Zealand, 8 per cent. Even these percentages fail to take up the large number of volunteers in each Dominion.

Survivors of Torpedoed Ship

These seamen, grinning cheerfully as they were taken on a tour of New York City, are survivors of the torpedoed Belgian freighter Ville de Liege. They were picked up by a British warship after drifting thirteen days. Amputation of their legs was necessitated by exposure. All will get artificial limbs. Left to right: Erik Hillers, who has one leg; Ernest Elford, Alex Navarro and Frank Crowhurst, who already has his artificial legs.

SPORTSMEN AWAIT LISBON MEETING

LISBON, Dec. 13. — Approximately 100 Conservation department heads, enforcement officers and sportsmen are expected at the state-wide meeting and banquet in the Hotel Wick Monday evening, as the feature of the three-day session which will open with a luncheon in the hotel at noon Monday.

Dr. T. H. Langlois, chief of the state fish management bureau, will be the chief speaker during the sessions. Earl Trautman, research assistant, and E. L. Wickliffe, assistant chief of fish management; Bert Cannell, district supervisor of conservation law enforcement; Walter Lauffer, department photographer; E. B. Scott, district enforcer in charge of streams, and Harrison Portney, who has been in charge of stream improvements in Columbiana county, will also appear on the program and lead discussions.

Fish management agents of seven districts in the state have made reservations for the meeting.
